

Pilgrimage to Burns Bog

This pilgrimage is both spiritual and political: to protect what we love, a sacred site, home to a unique diversity of species. We start at beautiful Deas Island Park in the Fraser River, then walk 5 km to the proposed Gateway freeway interchange. Then to Sherwood Forest, home to hundreds of endangered eagles, owls, hawks, falcons, cranes, and thousands of songbirds, ducks, voles, and shrews.

*Please carpool:
Come to the Deas Island
Parking Lot at 2pm on Sunday, June 8.*

Let your spirit soar!

A pilgrimage is a ritual that belongs to no single religious or cultural tradition, that has no inherent ritual except to go, and when undertaken by walking, slows people down to move through the environment at a natural pace that awakens the senses, to perceive and connect to the environment as it is.
